

INFORMED CONSENT FOR INTERVIEWS:

Wedding Planner Interfaces

Project Description: We are a group of five students from Olin College of Engineering enrolled in a interface design course. Our objective for this interview is to better understand our user group of wedding planners such that we can create a meaningful and helpful interface for wedding planners.

Procedure and Risks:

If you are willing, we would like to record the interview and share the recording with our team members and professors to identify key insights about wedding planners. We will record the information only with your written consent, and will ask that no personal identifiers will be used during the interview to sure your anonymity. Please feel free to say as much or as little as you want. You can decide not to answer any question, or to stop the interview at any time you want.

There is no perceived risk in choosing to participate in this study.

Benefits:

It is hoped that the results of this study will benefit the wedding planning community through providing greater insight into how you plan weddings.

Cost Compensation:

Participation in this study will involve no costs or payment to you.

Confidentiality:

All information collected during this study period will be kept strictly confidential until you sign a release waiver. No publications or reports from this project will include information to any participant without your signed permission, and after your review of the materials. If you agree to join this study, please sign your name on the following page.
